

2012 Kansas Statutes

22-4711. Prior record information; rights and duties. Criminal history record information which was recorded prior to the effective date of this act is subject to the right of access and challenge in accordance with this act. However, the duty of a criminal justice agency is to make a reasonable search for such information. There is no duty to provide access to criminal history record information that cannot be located after a reasonable search.

History: L. 1978, ch. 118, § 11; March 1.