

2012 Kansas Statutes

25-2907. Removal of ballots from voting place prohibited. No person shall take or remove any ballot from a voting place except the supervising judge. Any voter who, after receiving a ballot or set of ballots, decides not to vote one or more of such ballots, shall, before leaving the voting place, so notify the election board and surrender to it all the ballots which have been given to him. A refusal or failure to so surrender such ballots shall be unlawful and shall subject the person so offending to immediate arrest and the penalties provided by law for such offenses.

History: L. 1968, ch. 406, § 29; April 30.