

2012 Kansas Statutes

77-147. Disposition of obsolete volumes and supplements. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, whenever the secretary of state and the revisor of statutes determine that a volume of Kansas Statutes Annotated or a pocket-part supplement thereto has become obsolete by reason of publication of a later volume or pocket-part, such officers may provide for the disposition of the remaining copies of such volume or pocket-part supplement by whatever means said officers determine without making a charge therefor.

History: L. 1974, ch. 210, § 2; July 1.