

2016 Kansas Statutes

76-317. Bureau of child research; location of administrative offices; cooperation and aid of schools, hospitals and institutions; assistance in administration and operation of certain institutions. The bureau shall have its administrative offices at the university of Kansas, but it may receive the aid and cooperation of the staff, equipment and research students of any school, hospital or institution in the state, to the extent that such aid and cooperation may be offered by these various schools, hospitals and institutions and insofar as such aid and cooperation may be useful to the bureau. Upon the request of the secretary for aging and disability services, the bureau may assist in the administration or operation of any institution within the Kansas department for aging and disability services.
