HOUSE BILL No. 2180

February 15, 2017

Thank you Mr. Chair and committee members for the opportunity to testify in opposition to one provision contained in this bill.

This bill would enact a retroactive privilege fee and would require health insurance companies, selling HMO policies, to write a check for a tax that they have no ability to collect from their customers.

This would be a difficult policy during a time of turmoil and uncertainty in the health insurance marketplace. Increasing a tax on health insurance policies could result in fewer plans being offered in the future.

I respectfully ask that you oppose the retroactive component of this bill.

Clark Shultz
Deputy Commissioner of Insurance
