Trinity has been the best thing that has happened to me and my family. It gives me the flexibility I need for my family. It gives me the opportunity to work either 8 or 12 hour shifts, days or nights. If I were to work at a hospital or a facility, I would have one shift to choose from and either 8 or 12 hour shifts. If I worked at one facility, I would not have the opportunity to take time off this spring/summer, do to the shortage. I will continue to work full time hours, just not all the overtime that I do.

I work at two different facilities during the week. One is a mental institution and the other is a long term care and rehabilitation facility. Both places can be very rewarding and at the same time both places can be very mentally and physically demanding. I work at the two places to give me a break from getting burned out at either place.

When I left my last job I was making more per hour than I do with Trinity. My previous employer was rude and disrespectful. I am a dependable, hard worker and put in a lot of overtime and I feel that I am rewarded fairly for that.

I have had several facilities ask me to quit working for Trinity and come work for them. My answer has always been, no.

Thank you,

Lorie Davis, RN
